

The Friends of St Chad's Memorial Fund

This is a separate registered charity independent of church control and dedicated to the preservation of St Chad's Church building in Shrewsbury.

In the twenty years since its inception, donations and legacies to the fund have grown to £120,000. The capital is kept intact with only the interest from it being used to help keep the church building in good repair. This means that there is an increasingly steady flow of money ready to put towards the up-keep of this valuable building. Costs are always rising and up to May 2008 a total of £66,000 has been provided towards repairs to the church roof, the portico and the tower. As further donations are made to the capital, so the income available each year increases.

Lifetime donations can be augmented by Gift Aid and should you leave a legacy in your will, your money will continue to support the church for many years after you can no longer spend it yourself. The Memorial Book inside the church records the names of all those in whose memory money has been received. Please contact friends@stchadschurchshrewsbury.com if you would like to donate to this important fund.
